

Small Plan Litigation Is Increasing

In a June 2010 article by Fred Reish, of Reish & Reicher—a preeminent ERISA law firm—Mr. Reish commented that he has observed an increasing number of small plan ERISA lawsuits, which supports his supposition that third party administrators and sponsors of small plans are not immune from litigation.

To read Mr. Reish's article in full, click on the following link.

www.reish.com/publications/article\_detail.cfm?ARTICLEID=941